

Rating Action: Moody's downgrades 13 Japan government-related issuer ratings to Aa3 following sovereign downgrade

Global Credit Research - 24 Aug 2011

Tokyo, August 24, 2011 -- Moody's Japan K.K. has downgraded the ratings of 13 Japanese government-related issuers (GRIs) to Aa3 from Aa2, subsequent to Moody's decision on August 24 to downgrade the Japanese Government Bond (JGB) rating to Aa3 -- with a stable outlook -- from Aa2.

The rating outlooks of the 13 GRIs are stable.

This rating action concludes the rating review for possible downgrade initiated on May 31, 2011.

The 13 GRIs are:

- (1) Japan Expressway Holding and Debt Repayment Agency
- (2) East Nippon Expressway Company Limited
- (3) Central Nippon Expressway Company Limited
- (4) West Nippon Expressway Company Limited
- (5) Metropolitan Expressway Company Limited
- (6) Urban Renaissance Agency
- (7) Japan Railway Construction, Transport and Technology Agency
- (8) Kansai International Airport Company Limited
- (9) Japan Finance Corporation
- (10) Japan Finance Organization for Municipalities
- (11) Japan Housing Finance Agency
- (12) Development Bank of Japan Inc. (DBJ)
- (13) Shoko Chukin Bank, Ltd (SCB)

RATING RATIONALE

Today's rating action was solely prompted by Moody's decision to downgrade the JGB rating to Aa3.

Accordingly, the downgrades of these GRIs' ratings do not reflect any change in their standalone credit fundamentals and any change in their strong relationship with the Government of Japan.

The stable rating outlooks for these GRIs reflects the stable rating outlook of the government.

The GRIs are constrained by the government's debt rating.

Moody's uses a credit substitution approach for 11 of the above GRIs.

Accordingly, Moody's assigns the same rating as that of the government to these 11 institutions.

For the remaining two GRIs - DBJ and SCB - Moody's continues to apply its Joint Default Analysis approach. The probability of support from, and the dependence on, the Government of Japan for these two GRIs remain very high; thus, their final ratings are the same as the government's rating.

Moody's continues to retain a baseline credit assessment (BCA) of 7 (on a scale of 1 to 21, where 1 represents lowest credit risk) for DBJ and a bank financial strength rating (BFSR) of D (translated into BCA of Ba2) for SCB, reflecting the Japanese government's unchanged objective of fully privatizing these two institutions over the medium-term.

The principal methodologies used in these ratings were (1) Moody's Government-Related Issuers: Methodology Update, (2) Bank Financial Strength Ratings: Global Methodology, and (3) Incorporation of Joint-Default Analysis into Moody's Bank Ratings: A Refined Methodology (all published on September 30, 2010) and available on www.moodys.co.jp.
